You also may know that the actions described above are a misdemeanor in SC. You may not know that I offered an amendment in the Senate in 2015 to make this offense a felony. Senate leadership used a procedural maneuver to rule it out of order, and not one member from either party stood up to object. I don't necessarily disagree to any of the proposals in your survey, but none of them will make a real difference in this type of crime. I think people who beat their spouse should be locked up. Please contact me when that becomes an action item for your group and I will be glad to assist." – S. Martin
